

Stacia Ohira
ABKC Judge

Aloha my name is Stacia Ohira and I am from Honolulu, Hawaii. I have been involved in the breed for over 30 years beginning with Pit Bulls, American Staffordshire Terriers and now the ABKC American Bully Dog. I have finished well over 100 champions in the following breeds over the span of my lifetime with these breeds. I am also a professional dog handler and have many years of experience in the new breeds that the ABKC has recognized including the Bull Terrier, Bulldogs and French Bulldogs and have finished many champions in these breeds as well.

What attracted me to the ABKC registry is the passion that I saw in the people that were involved and the desire to make this breed its own with a strong ownership of them as well. I decided to become a judge with the ABKC because I wanted to share my mana'o (my knowledge) with others in hopes that it will help them to form a better breeding program resulting in the production of quality animals. I have a lot of faith that together we can make the ABKC one of the most consistent of its kind so I continue to share whenever possible.
