

Cindy McCloskey-Johnson
ABKC Judge

My involvement with dogs began many years ago; however, my passion with the UKC American Pit Bull Terrier and AKC American Staffordshire Terrier was ignited in 1998 when my husband and I began our journey with the formation of Master P Kennels in the Midwest. Our program produced foundation dogs to many breeders and kennels in the Midwest, many of which have become UKC and ABKC conformation titled champions. My passion for dogs led me into sporting activities and competition in Obedience, Working Dog Sport and Schutzhund Sport. I have been actively involved with the American Bully Kennel Club since its inception. In 2011, I attained my current position as a conformation judge with the American Bully Kennel Club.

As an advocate of our bully breeds, I have had the opportunity to work with legislators and local animal abuse programs to educate and overcome Breed Specific Legislation, and instruct local and county officers in overcoming misconceptions about the American Bully, American Pit Bull Terrier, American Staffordshire Terrier, and other bully breeds.

I am very passionate about my role as an ABKC Judge and working with the children in our bully community. Our children are our future, and the future of our bully breeds. I am blessed to share my many years of experience and knowledge of dogs and their anatomy, and to hold a position within our bully community which allows me to contribute in a positive way by sharing experiences, knowledge and insight in a positive way with youth, owners, exhibitors, and breeders.
